

The Dollars-and-Cents Benefits of Water Treatment Solutions from SUPER SOURCE

YOU ALREADY KNOW

that properly treated water means better tasting food and beverages.

But did you also know that properly treated water means big savings on maintenance and repairs?

That's because untreated or improperly treated water leads directly and inevitably to equipment failure. When your water's mineral content is too high, it creates solid deposits in your water-fed equipment. That scale buildup is like plaque that clogs your arteries – it's a dangerous obstruction that can lead to costly and catastrophic equipment breakdowns.

Even minor buildup can be a big drain on money and energy. Just 1/8 of an inch of buildup can spike your energy costs by 20% and slow heating cycles considerably.

Fortunately, Super Source offers a fully managed solution that will dramatically reduce scale buildup, extending the trouble-free life of all your water-fed equipment. You'll receive regular service from trained professionals, including ongoing water quality testing results. That way, you can be confident that you're getting the results you expect from a true water quality partner.

HOW OFTEN DOES YOUR EQUIPMENT FAIL? HOW OFTEN DOES IT HAVE TO?

Some people think of a water filtration system like an insurance program - they pay a small ongoing cost to minimize the likelihood of expensive equipment failures down the road.

That comparison may have some truth to it, but there's one big difference: There's always the chance you'll never need your insurance policy. Without water filtration, though, it's a sure bet that your equipment will require frequent, costly repairs.

That's not to say that a water filtration system will completely eliminate the need for maintenance. Scale can – and will – continue to build up, even with the most advanced systems in place. It just builds up much more slowly, dramatically reducing the severity of water problems and minimizing repair frequency.

Wouldn't you rather address scale buildup once every four or five years, rather than year in and year out? Those cost, labor and management savings are the true benefits of a well-managed filtration system.

REAL, EFFECTIVE WATER QUALITY SOLUTIONS

SAVE MONEY • SAVE ENERGY • EXTEND EQUIPMENT LIFE

If your foodservice operation is like many others, your water treatment system is a hodge-podge of products from different manufacturers, many of which haven't been replaced or serviced in ages. To make matters worse, there's simply no time, budget or personnel to get a handle on things and upgrade to a system that's coordinated and effective.

Until now, that is. Count on Super Source to make sense of your system no matter how old, mismatched or dilapidated it may be. Our trained professionals will:

PROVIDE REGULAR SERVICE - Our trained, professional water quality technicians service your equipment on a rigorous, ongoing basis, ensuring that it's always performing as expected. And since we're familiar with virtually every equipment configuration in operation today, there's no challenge they can't tackle.

PERFORM ONGOING WATER QUALITY TESTING - Every time we perform a service, we will test the water quality and inform you of any potential issues (for example, hard water after a softening system installation). This allows you to contact the correct service provider and address the issue before it becomes a problem.

ELIMINATE MIX-AND-MATCH EQUIPMENT HEADACHES - You'll never have to worry again about dozens of different products from dozens of different manufacturers. We'll catalog and consolidate all your products into a single, easy-to-manage and easy-to-understand system, eliminating confusion and redundancies facility-wide.

CONSOLIDATE VENDORS - Rather than dealing with multiple suppliers, you'll only have one name to call for all your water treatment needs. We're a total equipment provider, so you can count on us for filters, dispensers and related products for every water-fed device you operate.

REMEDY IMPROPER CONFIGURATION - We'll optimize your water system, eliminating unnecessary and outdated components to help you get the most for your money. With Super Source, you'll only receive those items you actually need, and you'll never pay for a single superfluous product.

PROFESSIONALLY INSTALL ALL ITEMS - We do the installation and replacement ourselves, so you can be certain that everything will function as intended. You'll have less labor to worry about and you'll appreciate the peace of mind that comes from having a system that operates the way it's supposed to, day in and day out.
